Will of James Hinton.

The will of the late James Hinton was probated in the County Court Saturday. The testator directs that after the payment of all his just debts and funeral expenses, the residue of any monies, share and share alike, between his two sons, William W. Hinton and James Hinton. He further directs that the proceeds of all personal property not otherwise disposed of be also divided equally between his two sons, as well as the proceeds of a lot in the city of Fort Smith, Arkansas.

The document further recites that his son, James Hinton, having relinquished all interest in his farm of eighty acres on the Paris and Lexington turnpike, that same is hereby given to his son, William W. Hinton. The will is dated June 4, 1902, and is witnessed by L. A. Ragon and Jos. A. Rowertson.

A codicil bearing date of July 23, 1902, is attached, which provides that his son, William W. Hinton, be named as executor of the estate, and that the court require no bond. Upon the probating of the will Mr. Hinton complied with its instructions and qualified as the executor of the estate.

Street Oiling Commenced.

Mayor James M. O'Brien has received two tanks of oil for street purposes. The tanks contain 6,000 gallons, and cost 24 cents per gallon this year, while last year the city paid 43 cents per gallon. The oiling of the streets began yesterday, starting at the Clintonville pike and coming down Main.

Doyle Annex Lots Bring Good Prices.

The second public sale of lots for residence purposes pulled off by Dr. D. S. Henry was held yesterday afternoon, resulting in the sale of 17 lots in Doyle's Annex, between Cypress and High street extension.

The sale had twice been postponed on account of inclement weather, much to the disappointment of the people of Paris, and especially to the ladies, who were given an opportunity by registering, to compete for a free lot.

It was not until late Saturday afternoon that Dr. Henry decided that weather conditions looked favorable, and announced that the sale would be held yesterday afternoon. The public was notified of the sale yesterday by the Elks' band, which paraded in a wagon over the main thoroughfares of the city, and during the hours of registering, rendered a concert on the grounds.

The crowd that faced Col. A. T. Forsyth, the auctioneer, numbered probably five hundred people when the first bid was asked for. The lots were then knocked off in rapid succession to the following purchasers: No. 6, J. S. Johnson, $500; No. 5, Robert Link, $480; No. 4, Mrs. L. T. Hilleston, $350; No. 3, J. W. Bacon, $425; No. 7, B. F. Adcock, $500; No. 8, H. C. Ogle, $400; No. 9, Harry Simon, $300; No. 10, same, $400; No. 11, John Merringer, $400; No. 12, Frank Graft, $330; No. 13, Mrs. Ragan, $275; No. 14, Frank Wright, $255; No. 15, Mrs. Hawes, $225; No. 16, Denis Dundon, $225; No. 17, same, $245; No. 18, John Jones, $245; and No. 19, S. T. Chipley, $275. The average was $338 per lot.

Narrow Escape for Two Ladies.

While Mrs. Newton Mitchell and her guest, Mrs. R. S. Hart, of Woodford county, were out driving Saturday afternoon they came near meeting with a serious accident. Mrs. Mitchell was driving and when going down the steep hill on Vine street, the mare began to kick, when Mrs. Hart with great presence of mind grabbed the lines from Mrs. Mitchell and with great skill pulled the mare into the side of the street and threw her to the ground. The ladies hurriedly jumped from the buggy.

The frightened animal then kicked herself loose from the vehicle, and with only the shafts attached made down Vine street until she came to the railroad crossing, then turned South and ran through the L. & N. yards, passing the passenger depot and dodging moving trains until she was stopped in the rear of Dan Peed's tobacco warehouse on South Main street, covering nearly a mile over ties without hurting herself. It was a remarkable runaway for no one to be hurt, not even the mare.

The mare is the family mare of Mr. W. W. Mitchell, ladies had driven her before, she had never been known to scare or attempt to kick, it was one of those occurrences that cannot be explained. Mr. Mitchell hitched the mare up Sunday and she drove as gentle and as quietly as if nothing had ever happened to her.

Small Pox Scare.

There were two cases of small pox reported to City Health Officer Dr. Wm. Kenney Sunday afternoon and he promptly took steps to prevent the disease from spreading in the city proper. Upon investigation Dr. Kenney found the cases to be in Claysville and at once quarantined Claysville against the city of Paris, putting guards around the colored village and not allowing anyone to enter the town or come from there. He communicated at once with County Health Officer Dr. Silas Evans, who found the persons who had the disease to be John Green and John Miller. Dr. Evans put up the flag and put night and day guards at the respective homes of these parties.

Every precaution is being taken and as the disease is in a very mild form, the Health Officers believe it is under control and there is no danger of it spreading.

Drs. Brown and Anderson were busily engaged yesterday in vaccinating every person in Claysville who did not have a vaccination scar on them.

The Eagles.

The Paris Lodge of Eagles was instituted at the Elks Hall in this city last night in a blaze of glory. Several hundred visiting Eagles were here from Lexington, Frankfort and Maysville.

The Lexington and Frankfort crowd arrived on special cars about 7:30, and headed by an excellent band of music from Frankfort marched down Main from Tenth to the Elks building, each carrying a bright red light and fireworks being sent up along the line of march. It was indeed a beautiful sight there being at least four hundred in line.

The Lexington team did the degree work in fine style. There was a class of over one hundred that rode the goat and initiated into the mysteries of the order.

After the work was completed a sumptuous buffet luncheon was enjoyed by the visitors.

As we go to press Eagles are to be seen flying around on all sides and having a good jolly time.

It is not only one of the largest orders in the country, but is also one of the very best of the secret fraternities.

First Sale of Bluegrass Seed.

Stood Examination.

Examinations for graduation in the common schools of the county took place Saturday in the office of Superintendent F. L. McChesnev, being conducted by the Superintendent and Prof. E. M. Costella. The following students stood the examinations: Misses Lillian Hough, Mattie Conway, Estelle Mitchell, Frances Roby, Mary S. Masons, Irene Bonta and Phoebe B. Fitch and Arthur L. Rice.

New Church Club.

The ladies of the two Presbyterian churches gave a reception to the men of the churches Friday night which resulted in the organization of a Men's Club. A temporary organization was made by the election of Dr. J. T. Vansant, President, and Mr. C. A. McMillan, Secretary. A committee of five, headed by Dr. Frank Fithian, was appointed to report on permanent organization at the next meeting, the date of which will be announced later.

Hons. T. T. Forman and Allison Holland, members of the Men's Club of the First Presbyterian Church, of Lexington, were present and made interesting remarks on Men's Clubs. There were about forty-five gentlemen present who were served with delicious lunch by the ladies, who were not seen, but heard in a most substantial and delightful manner.

A Public Calamity.

[From Lexington Gazette.]

There is a striking lesson for the people of Kentucky in the demonstration in the Republican Convention in Louisville on Wednesday over a rumor that certain men charged with the crime of murder had been pardoned.

This murder was actually committed. There is no doubt whatever that William Goebel was shot down on the Capitol Square and that he died from the wound. That the bullet that killed him came from the office of a Republican Secretary of State is also a matter beyond dispute. Every unprejudiced person who has carefully followed these cases from beginning to end believes that the overwhelming majority of jurors who have heard and passed upon the evidence has been correct in the conclusion that the Republican official from whose office the fatal shot was fired was implicated in the conspiracy.

The Gazette would do no man an injustice. It would prefer to believe Caleb Powers innocent, but no action of a Republican Governor, no amount of applause in a Republican Convention can remove the facts in the case. A representative convention of Republicans, a convention described by one of the Republican organs as "the largest and most representative gathering of Republicans in the history of Kentucky," has shown that it does not condemn the blackest crime that stains Kentucky's record, but that it is prepared to hail those implicated in this crime as heroes and martyrs.

We have heard recently much about lawlessness in Kentucky. Everybody will admit that there is too little reverence in this State for the majesty of the law. We can not be surprised at the outbreak of mobs or the violence of individuals when it is possible for the representatives of a political party now in control of the State Government to present the spectacle exhibited in Louisville on Wednesday. Men and a great party who have never expressed any condemnation of the crime, who have never turned their hands for the vindication of the law, but on the contrary, have devoted all of their energies and all of their influence to a movement to help the criminals escape the just penalties of the law, now go mad with joy at the prospect of the liberation of their heroes.

The Gazette has no quarrel with any man who honestly believes these men are innocent and ought to be pardoned, but it is a matter of grave concern to the people of Kentucky that a mere rumor of a pardon should create such a scene in a political convention representative of a party organization in control of the State Government. It is final and conclusive evidence that the Republican party is responsible for the Goebel murder and for all of the efforts to prevent the punishment of the assassins.

When a great political party thus assumes responsibility for a crime and deliberately uses all of its power to shield the criminals, those who would maintain the law and inculcate in the citizenship of Kentucky a respect for the majesty of the law must realize that they are confronted with an almost hopeless task. It is not only a disgrace to the State, but a misfortune, the seriousness of which can not be over-estimated. That such a scene is possible in any gathering that has any claim to be considered representative of Kentucky, ought to be a matter of profound regret of every loyal law-abiding citizen.

A Democratic Appeal.

Every Democratic member of the House of Representatives has signed a petition to the Speaker requesting him to recognize some member to move to discharge the Committee on Ways and Means from the further consideration of, and to suspend the rules, and to pass the Stevens bill, or any other bill, having the effect to put wood pulp and print paper on the free list. John Sharp Williams, the Democratic leader of the House, goaded the Republican leaders to fury by beseeching thirty Republicans, at least, to come forward and add their signatures to the petition. He called on those who had introduced bills for free print paper to sign but not one came forward, not even those who had made speeches in favor of such a measure. Mr. Williams made his request for action facetiously, he knew no Republican would come forward to the mourners bench, and repudiate the hide-bound partisanship that hangs like a pall over the deliberations of this Congress. He told them that:

"While the lamp holds out to burn, The vilest sinner may return."
And added: "If you have lately been, or expect to be, in any manner bull-dozed or boss-ridden, why, think for a second; think what a short life we live here and how necessary it is that we should do things."

But Mr. Williams' prayer fell upon standpat ears, and not one Republican sinner of them all came forward to show that he really was for even this small measure of tariff reform, even to curb a trust that is plundering every newspaper publisher in the United States.

How can the voters expect that "after election" Republican Congressmen will be any more willing to undertake the greater task of tackling hundreds of trusts which are protected by the tariff when they refuse to take the tariff pap from this infant that is eating up the substance of newspaper proprietors. Every Republican Congressman is now on record as either opposed to tariff reform, or afraid to disobey the orders or the standpat readers who are wedded to their alliance with those trust magnates who furnish the main part of the campaign funds that keep the Republican party in power. Turn the rascals out and elect Democrats if you desire reform.

A Little Analogy.

The Supreme Court, in the Minnesota rate case, lays down a proposition which if applied to President Roosevelt, might make him squirm. It says:

"If the act which the Attorney-General seeks to enforce be a violation of the Federal Constitution, the officer, in proceeding under such enactment, comes into conflict with the superior authority of that Constitution; and he is in that case stripped of his official or representative character, and is subjected in his person to the consequences of his individual conduct." Where would Mr. Roosevelt stand if this principle was applied to his conduct?

Pause and Reflect.

"If two-thirds of the girls who go on the stage would go to the kitchen instead," says the Birmingham Age-Herald, "there would be a whole lot more happiness in this world." Think it over, brother. How would you like to have your dinner cooked by the average chorus girl?

Do You Think For Yourself?

Or, do you open your mouth like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you?

There is an intelligent thinking woman, in need of relief from weakness, nervousness, pain and suffering, then it means much to you that there is one tried and true honest medicine on earth, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, sold by druggists for the cure of woman's ills.

The makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for the cure of weak, nervous, run-down, over-worked, debilitated, pain-racked women, knowing this medicine to be made up of ingredients, every one of which has the strongest possible endorsement of the leading and standard authorities of the several schools of practice, are perfectly willing, and in fact, are only too glad to print, as they do, the formula, or list of ingredients, of which it is composed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper.

The formula of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will bear the most critical examination of medical experts, for it contains no alcohol, narcotics, harmful, or habit-forming drugs, and no agent enters into it that is not highly recommended by the most advanced and leading medical teachers and authorities of their several schools of practice. These authorities recommend the ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of exactly the same ailments for which this world-famed medicine is advised.

No other medicine for woman's ills has any such professional endorsement as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has received, in the unqualified recommendation of each of its several ingredients by scores of leading medical men of all the schools of practice. Is such an endorsement not worthy of your consideration?

A booklet of ingredients, with numerous authoritative professional endorsements by the leading medical authorities of this country, will be mailed free to any one sending name and address with request for same. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

All That Was Left.

A young married couple took a late train for Washington, intending to spend their honeymoon in rambling through the corridors of the capitol, Congressional library and other public buildings. The porter was awakening passengers at an unusually early hour that morning, and long before the train reached Baltimore he had them up. The groom told his bride that he would leave his coat and hat and retire to the smoking compartment of the train. He went out and met a friend, who asked him back into another car in order that he might meet a friend of his. Soon the conductor began making his rounds and taking up tickets. The young bride referred him to the smoking apartment, where, she said, her husband would be found. A moment later the conductor returned and informed her politely that the bridegroom was not to be found. The other passengers were startled by a loud shriek.

"My husband! Oh, my husband!" "Don't be alarmed, madam," said the conductor reassuringly. "Nothing has happened to your husband. He is probably in Baltimore. We dropped two sleepers at that point." And that was why friends of the young couple who went to the station in Washington to meet them saw only the bride clinging to an overcoat and a silk hat and wailing, "This is all there is left of him!"

What the Lunatic Thought.

A clergyman was suddenly called upon, away from home, to preach at a lunatic asylum, and he decided to make use of a favorite missionary sermon of his.

After the service, as the clergyman was leaving the chapel, one of the inmates stepped up to him and said: "That was a good sermon you gave us, sir."

The clergyman was pleased and replied:

"I am glad you liked it. What part in it especially interested you?"

"Where you told about the mothers throwing their infants into the Ganges."

"Yes," said the clergyman, "that is very sad, but it is true, and we must do our utmost to enlighten those unhappy people, that they may turn from the error of their way."

"Yes, indeed," continued the lunatic, "we must. And all the time you were preaching I wondered why your mother hadn't thrown you into the river when you were small."—London Express.

He Was Not Discharged.

This incident happened several years ago: One of the big national banks in New York was clearing for a certain other bank that was in trouble, and every day the president of the clearing house bank would certify a couple of million dollars' worth of checks for the other. Finally the paying teller called his attention to the fact that he was taking a mighty long chance, but the president paid no attention to the hint. Then the teller informed the clearing house of the situation, and the president was called to book.

"Did my paying teller tell you that?" demanded the president.

"He did," replied the chairman of the clearing house committee.

"I shall discharge him at once," declared the president, bristling up with indignation.

"You do and we'll close your bank tomorrow," calmly replied the chairman.

Needless to say, the teller was not discharged.—New York Globe.

Explained Away.

He was staring fixedly at his soup, or, rather, at a foreign body which floated upon the surface thereof. Presently he drew forth a pocket magnifying glass and examined the thing still more critically.

"Walter," he shouted, "what does this mean? Here's a fly in my soup!"

The waiter bent obsequiously forward and examined the derelict which floated on that greasy ocean.

"Bless your heart, sir," he exclaimed, "that ain't no fly! It's only a bit of dirt!"

And yet that diner left the restaurant, another striking example of sour unreasonableness.

The Time Allotted Us.

The time allotted us, if it were well employed, were abundant enough to answer all the ends and purposes of mankind, but we squander it away in avarice, drink, sleep, luxury, ambition, fawning addresses, envy, rambling voyages, impertinent studies, change of counsels and the like, and when our portion is spent we find the want of it, though we give no heed to it in the passage, inasmuch that we have rather made our life short than found it so.

Inappropriate.

"Why do you call young Kallow 'Colly'?" His first name is Noah," said Towne.

"I know," replied Browne, "but that's so inappropriate. Noah had sense enough to get in out of the rain."

Democratic Victory Needed.

Hon. Levin Irving Handy, of Delaware, who by the way, is a nephew of Colonel Breckinridge, in a recent letter to the Lexington Herald, gives the following reasons why the country needs a Democratic victory this year: "The Republicans have had power too long. They have been corrupt, extravagant and autocratic. They are actually turning popular government into personal government. The government at Washington, dominated by one man is not only absorbing in itself the proper functions of our State governments, but has also started out to manage those affairs which in a free country it is wisest to let the individual citizens manage for themselves.

"We see business and industry wrecked and paralyzed. Capital is scared to death and labor is starving to death. The country needs a change and wants a change and the only way to get it is by a Democratic victory."

Monday evening at 8 o'clock will be the annual concert and an admission fee of 25 cents will be charged for this exercise. Tuesday, the 19th at 10:30 a. m., will be the exercises of the graduation class and the literary address by Rev. R. S. Sanders, pastor of the Millersburg Presbyterian church. A cordial welcome and interesting and pleasant occasion await all who will attend these occasions.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cray entertained about forty young people Wednesday evening from 8 to 11 in honor of the fifteenth anniversary of their daughter, Miss Mary Louise Cray. This came in the nature of a surprise to Miss Cray. She was entirely ignorant of the gathering until most of the guests had arrived. She had gone home with Miss Ethel Johnson in the afternoon to spend the night as she supposed. About 8 o'clock Miss Julia Carpenter drove to the home of Mr. Johnson and asked the young ladies to drive down town with her, as she wanted to do a little shopping. Miss Cray at first refused to go as it was raining very hard at the time, saying she did not know why anyone would want to go out a night like that. The persuasion was too much for her and she was compelled to yield, after Mrs. Johnson told her to go. She followed a little later. It was known in the home that she was down street and the final preparations were made for her reception. She refused at first to go into her own home, saying the night was bad they must hasten back to Mr. Johnson's. However, the girls took her home. At the head of the stairway in the hall leading to the parlor she was met by her father, who took her by the arm saying he wanted to see her a moment, at the same time opening wide the parlor door. The moment the door was opened before the young lady could realize where she was she found herself in the midst of about 40 friends, under the sweet strains of the M. M. I. orchestra. She was delighted, astounded, frightened and embarrassed; little did she dream of the pleasure awaiting her at home, and that everybody was on to the scheme except herself. A most delightful evening was spent and the M. M. I. orchestra was certainly at its best and showed marked improvement since last we heard it. The lightnings flashed, the thunders roared and the rain fell in torrents without but in this paradise of youth and beauty all was oblivious to the elements without. Various amusements were indulged in and refreshments were served. The party broke up about 11 o'clock, all wishing the dainty little maiden many happy returns of this enjoyable night and the parents who so thoughtfully and yet secretly prepared this little surprise long lives to enjoy the society and pleasure of this dear daughter.

K. of P. District Convention.

The 16th District Knights of Pythias Convention was held in this city on Friday. A large number of delegates were present from fourteen lodges, the district being composed of Bourbon, Nicholas, Harrison, Scott, Clark and Fayette counties.

The business session opened at 3 o'clock, p. m. in the Odd Fellows' Hall and was called to order by S. W. Powell, of Winchester.

After disposing of routine work the first matter brought up for consideration was the Pythian Home. The discussion was opened by J. L. Earlywine, of Paris, followed by Grand Vice Chancellor O. H. Pollard, of Jackson, and J. C. Brown, of Berry, Ky.

R. H. Conway, of Cynthiana, then read a paper on the "Best Method of Opening and Conducting Subordinate Lodges," and J. C. Brown, of Berry, Ky., discussed the "Best Method of Preventing Suspensions."

R. M. Shipp, of Winchester, then discussed "Why the Supreme Lodge Required Examinations in Secret Work Before Advancement to a Higher Degree." Hon. Emmett Orr, of Covington, delivered a short address on the "Founding and Conducting of the Pythian Home," followed by an address along the same lines by Lucien Davis, of Hopkinsville, a member of the board.

A. C. Byers, of Lexington, Superintendent of the Home, read a report showing the progress of the Home and the great work it was accomplishing.

After re-electing S. W. Powell, of Winchester, as District Convention Deputy, adjournment was had, when the delegates repaired to the K. of P. Hall, the Page Rank was conferred on J. R. King and John P. Shaw. The delegates and visiting Knights were then entertained at a banquet given in their honor, at which plates for one hundred and fifty were laid.

Indictments Threatened.

A dispatch from Frankfort says the Scott county grand jury is investigating by what authority troops were sent to that county, and several men in the militia have appeared before the jury to testify.

Judge Robert Stout, in his instructions to the jury, said that the Governor had no right to send troops into any county except on the request of the County Judge, Sheriff or Circuit Judge. He directed the grand jury to investigate whether or not the soldiers had been sent there for the purpose of intimidating any citizen, and if they found that the soldiers were there to intimidate anybody indictments could be returned against any State official who was in the plot to intimidate.

There is talk here, continues the dispatch, that an indictment is to be returned against Governor Willson and Adjutant General Johnston, charging conspiracy to intimidate.

The people of that and surrounding counties are objecting vigorously to troops being sent into their counties and the growers are up in arms.

Hon. Edgar Hager Announces for Congress.

Hon. Edgar B. Hager, of Ashland, has announced as a candidate for Congress in the Ninth Congressional District, subject to the action of the Democratic party. We are not in his district, yet at the same time we are for him. He is a brilliant young lawyer, a loyal, true and devoted Democrat. His record is clean and an open book. He is Congressional timber of the right kind.

Such men as Edgar B. Hager in Congress are the ones that have honor heaped upon themselves and their constituents. If the Democrats honor him with the nomination he will surely lead them to victory.

His many friends in Paris, whom he made by his genial manners and conversational powers during the Knights Templar Conclave in this city, truly hope that the Democrats of the Ninth will give this worthy young man the nomination, and then afterwards elect him to Congress.

LIVE STOCK AND CROP NOTES

—The receipts of milk at the Paris creamery last week aggregated 14,557 pounds, or an increase of nearly 4,000 pounds over the previous week. A total of 728 pounds of butter were churned. Milk is being received daily.

—Gardens are very late, but few if any of the varieties of vegetable tables having as yet been planted. As an illustration of the backward season John Morris, a large producer of potatoes, has yet twenty-six acres to plant.

—Chicago is claimed to be the largest calf market in the world. During the year 1907, 4,211,934 calves were marketed in that city. Up to Tuesday of this week 157,000 calves had been sold in that market since January 1, 1908.

—From what we can gather from the farmers the fruit crop has so far escaped the blighting frost, with the possible exception of cherries. Strawberries are in fine condition and will show a good yield, the only thing needed is the sun's rays for about a week.

—The Bourbon hemp crop has practically been marketed, less than one hundred acres being in the field yet to break. The crop aggregated about 3,000,000 pounds for which the farmers of the county have been paid the hard some sum of $175,000. An increased acreage is being planted in lieu of tobacco.

—Farmers in Fayette and adjoining counties of the Blue Grass report that cattle are dying by the dozens of clover bloat. The disease is due to the animals eating excessively of white clover, which is said to be quite luxuriant this spring owing to the continuous rains. After eating of the clover, the cattle swell, or become "foundered," like horses sometimes do after eating too freely of green corn.

—Farmers and landowners who expect big bluegrass seed crops have been offering their crops to dealers at 75 cents per bushel with the latter reluctant to buy. The pooling of the crop last year by the leading producers of the county will, in all probability, be attempted again this year as the results obtained are said to be satisfactory to the members of the pool.

SUNLAND CHIEF, Bay Stallion, 16 hands high, foaled in 1902; perfectly sound. Sired by Harrison Chief, Jr.

1st dam "Becky," dy Westwood 3263. Harrison Chief, Jr., sired by Harrison Chief. 1st dam by Peavine; 2d dam by Edwin Forrest 49.

Westwood by Blackwood 74, dam Favorite by Abdallah 15. SUNLAND CHIEF, is the best harness stallion that has been in Kentucky since Harrison Chief. He has fine all-round action and is fast, natural trotter.

In the show ring he has won at Cynthiana, Georgetown, Lexington and Paris, Ky., fairs.

At Cynthiana last year he defeated ten aged harness stallions, including the Champion of the Blue Grass Fair in 1906 and the Champion of State Fair in 1905.

At Paris Fair in 1907 he won the Aged Harness Stallion Ring and the Sweepstake Roadster Stallion Ring.

SUNLAND CHIEF's pedigree is full of the blood of the great show horses, Joe Downing, Indian Chief, Peavine, Harrison Chief, and the great mares, Lizzie Peebles, Favorite and Lute Boyd.

SUNLAND CHIEF is type of the horse that brings to the breeder and farmer ready money; without much handling. That he will reproduce himself is beyond doubt.

The Royal Bred Combined Stallion,

Will make the season of 1908 at my stable at Kiserston, Ky., 5 miles North of Paris, on Shawhan and Kiser pike. He is from Kentucky's great show horse family, he being sired by "Montgomery Chief," the sire of "Daisy Field," which sold at a 4-year-old at $7,500; also "American Girl" at $5,000, "Montgomery Chief," "r." at $1,000 at 2 years old.

"My Star's" 1st dam has produced three colts which sold at an average of $3,200.

His 1st dam by "Simmons' Clark Chief."

2nd dam "Tattler Chief."

3rd dam "Denmark."

4th dam "Cock Spur" (Tho.)

"My Star," is a rich bay, 15½ hands high, foaled in 1903, star and snip in face, white ankles, heavy mane and tail, which he carries to perfection, has colts of style and a hackney in action. Will serve mares

At $20 to Insure a Colt.

Also at the same time and place, a good mule Jack, 15½ hands, with good ear, plenty of bone and substance. Good breeder. His mules will show for themselves. Will stand

At $8 to Insure a Colt.Jake C. Keller & Sons, Kiserston, Ky.*Forest Denmark 153.

This noted sire will make the season of 1908 at my home, on the Harrod's creek pike, 8 miles from Paris and 4 miles from North Middletown, at $20 to Insure a Living Colt.

DESCRIPTION.—Forest Denmark is a solid bay, 16 hands high, has great natural style; carries head and tail high, and is not second to any stallion in Kentucky as a getter of high-priced saddie and harness horses.

He has always been at the head of the stud at Woodford's Stock Farm, Mt. Sterling, Kentucky. I was able to get him from the fact that my father's brood mares are nearly all by him.

Forest Denmark is the sire of the Chancellor that won sixteen blue tie, in 1906, also his mate The Cardinal, which team won, single and double, thirty-eight blue ties in 1907. He has sired three other geldings which sold at an average price of $2,821.

The breeders of Bourbon county have never had, and probably never will have again, the opportunity to breed to the equal of Forest Denmark at $20.

TERMS.—Money due as soon as colts come, mare parted with or bred to another horse. Mares from a distance grazed at $3 a month. Every precaution will be taken to prevent accidents or escapes, but will not be responsible for those that occur.

For further information apply to CATESBY WOODFORD, JR., R. F. D. No. 2, Paris, Ky. Phone 68, Middletown exchange.

Sam'l Clay,

Paris, - - - Kentucky.

WIGGINS is a horse of attractive conformation, 15 3 hands high, full of quality, and with fine feet and legs. In disposition and manners he is perfect. His colts are uniformly good colors and inherit his bold, frictionless way of going. They are generally pure gaited and trot with light shoes and few boots. WIGGINS himself wore a 7-ounce shoe with no boots in front. He was foaled a trotter, and as a yearling trotted a mile over a three-quarter mile track in 2:33½. He took his record when two years old and won five straight stake races and $4,600 that season. Douglas Thomas, his trainer, says he could have trotted a mile over a good track in 2:12. His colts not only trot fast young, but sell for high prices. He was himself a bold finisher and his colts are like him in this respect. For an out-cross for in-bred mares you can't do better than to breed to WIGGINS, though he nicks well with mares of any breeding. No other stallion at the same age has ever accomplished more than WIGGINS. No other stallion of any age ever had three two-year-olds to beat 2:18 trotting in one year. No other stallion ever had seven trotters in 22.0 list at ten years.

FEARED FOR NIECE'S FUTURE

Peculiar Bent of Child's Mind Dis-mayed Uncle.

"I hate to think it," grimly said Uncle Timrod Totter, "but I am mightily afraid my little 10-year-old niece, Luella, is going to cause a great deal of worry and unhappiness in the world when she grows up." "What makes ye think so?" asked old Squire Belcher, who had come over to borrow a whiffetree. "She seems to be a real nice, thoughtful, good-tempered child now." "Well," was the explanation, "t'other day, our gray gander got tangled up in a discussion with the shepherd pup, and when the fracas was over there was scarcely a feather left on the fowl. And little Luella took and dyked him out in a pair of draw-pantalons—and a chim-slip, I mean—of white cloth sewed by her own fair hands. And, somehow, I can't help fearing that when she attains an appropriate age she will wear nose-glasses and several double-chins, and go crusading against all the common and unimportant indelicacies that human flesh is heir to."—Exchange.

Power of Imagination.

Illustrating the strange power of the imagination, E. F. Benson, author of "Dodo," tells this incident. A doctor he knew had found it necessary to give a patient for many evenings an injection of morphia to enable him to get some sleep. After a while the doctor thought it advisable to stop the morphia, and for two nights his patient was unable to sleep, owing to great pain. On the third night the doctor, being still unwilling to administer morphia, injected plain water instead. The man slept perfectly and awoke in the morning with what is known as a morphine mouth.

Failed to Work.

"Yes," said the sad-eyed passenger, "I married the widow of a man who was hanged, and I thought, under the circumstances, I would be able to avoid odious comparisons in connection with the late lamented. But I was mistaken."

"She praised him just the same, eh?" rejoined the hardware drummer. "Well, not exactly," answered the s. e. p., "but we hadn't been married a week until she declared that hanging was too good for me."

Whooping Cough.

"In February our daughter had the whooping cough. Mr. Lane, of Hartland, recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and said it gave his customers the best of satisfaction. We found it as he said, and can recommend it to anyone having children troubled with whooping cough," says Mrs. A. Goss, of Durand, Mich. For sale by W. T. Brooks. You need no other guarantee.

APPRECIATE LAND OF LIBERTY.

Returning Immigrants Go Back With Fond Thoughts of America.

The steerage passengers who sail from America may be roughly divided into two classes—those who go home because they have succeeded, and those who go home because they have failed. The children are always loath to return, says the author of "On the Trail of the Immigrant," especially those who have gone to school in America. Amushka, a bright 12-year-old girl, goes from a Pennsylvania town to the French district in Hungary. She is dressed "American fashion," has gone to the public school and speaks English fairly well. "Amushka Moya, tell me, do you like to go back to Hungary?" "No, siree. America is the best country. There we have white bread and butter and candy, and I can chew gum to beat the band," and tears fill her eyes at the memory of the American luxuries she has tasted. One of the returning, who had traveled far, and had seen on that journey the galleries of Paris, Munich and Dresden, said: "I tell you, the finest piece of statuary in the whole world is the Goddess of Liberty in New York harbor."—Youth's Companion.

The Most Common Cause of Suffering.

Rheumatism causes more pain and suffering than any other disease, for the reason that it is most common of all ills, and it is certainly gratifying to sufferers to know that Chamberlain's Pain Balm will afford relief, and make rest and sleep possible. In many cases the relief from pain, which is at first temporary, has become permanent, while in old people subject to chronic rheumatism, often brought on by dampness or changes in the weather, a permanent cure cannot be expected; the relief from pain which this liniment affords is alone worth many times its cost. 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by W. Look Out For Them.

Official notice is sent out from Washington warning the public against two counterfeiters that have just appeared. One is a $10 United States note or "greenback" and the other a $20 gold certificate. As the counterfeiters are poorly executed and the workmanship is of an inferior order those accustomed to handling currency should not be easily deceived. On the whole there is little counterfeiting of this sort nowadays, and moderate amount of watchfulness will enable almost any person to avoid being swindled.

Ice and Glass.
Ice has the property—peculiar to bodies which expand on freezing—of liquefying under pressure and solidifying again when the pressure has been removed. Consequently the weight of any body moving upon a sheet of ice causes the formation of a thin layer of water which separates it from the ice and thus, by reducing the friction to a minimum, enables it to move smoothly over the surface—i. e., makes the ice more "slippery." On glass, on the contrary, this liquid medium is wanting, so that the two solid and unyielding bodies come into actual physical contact, causing a friction which, in spite of the smoothness of the glass, considerably retards the motion of the body.
If two smooth sheets of glass be taken and a few drops of water sprinkled over the one and the other placed above it, a thin layer of water will be formed, and until this layer has been pressed out the upper glass will move on the other as smoothly as if on ice.
This peculiar property of ice is due to the effect of pressure in lowering the freezing point of water, so that whenever ice is subjected to great pressure it partially melts.

She Believed in Presents.
An old woman in Orkney was noted for selling whisky on the sly. Her house was a few miles from the town, and the excise officers had often tried, but in vain, to get her convicted. A young officer was appointed to the place, who said, on being told about her, that he would soon secure her conviction. Early one morning he left home and arrived at the old woman's house at 7 o'clock. Walking in, he saw no one. Noticing a bell on the table, he rang it. The old woman appeared, and he asked for a glass of milk. After a little he rang again, and the old woman appeared. He asked if she had any whisky. "Aye, sir," she said, "we aye have some in the bottle," setting it down before him. Then, thanking her, he laid down a sovereign, which she took and walked out. After helping himself he rang and asked for the change. "Change, sir?" said the old woman. "There's nae change. We hae nae license. Fat we gie we gie in presents; fat we tak we tak in presents, so good day, sir." The excise man left the house a sadder but wiser personage.—Strand Magazine.

Professorial Standing.
A professor of English literature in one of our universities once brought to me to publish in this magazine a learned piece of writing. It seemed to me a pretty dull thing and not important, according to my judgment, to anybody and not possibly interesting to more than a mere handful of special students. I told him this as politely as I could. He soon came to me again and smilingly took me into his confidence.
"I hardly expected," he said, "that you would publish that 'study' that I offered you—in fact, I care little about it myself. I wrote it because my professional standing demands that I shall produce something at certain intervals, but now I have a piece of writing that I do take great pride in, and I want you to publish it without betraying the authorship to any living being. It would hurt my professional standing if it became known that I wrote this."
It was a novel!—Walter H. Page in Atlantic.

Hard to Please.
"George, dear," said the newly made wife, "if you became a Mormon or a sultan and were allowed six wives, whom would you choose for the other five?"
George was diplomatic.
"I'd select," he replied, "five duplicates of your own pretty self."
"Oh, you nasty thing!" she sobbed.
"When we were engaged you often said there wasn't another girl in the world like me!"
"But, my dear Gertrude," he replied,
"it was you who suggested the problem, and, anyhow, I should never become a Mormon or a sultan."
"Oh, you wretch!" she shrieked.
"You mean that if you found any others like me you wouldn't marry them!
I'll pack my trunk now and go home
to mother!"
It was the first time.—London Answers.

Too Much Sound.
In Dean Ramsay's book of anecdotes
there is one which refers to a conversation between a Scotch minister and a sexton. The minister was a stranger to the graveyard and discussed with him the doctrines of the neighboring clergy. As one after another was mentioned the sexton wagged his head gloomily and said, "He's no sound."
At last the minister, who was, by the bye, a long winded and rather empty preacher, mentioned his own name and inquired, "Mr. — now, isn't he sound?"
"Oo, aye," said the sexton, with a twinkle in his eye. "He's aw sound."

Breakfast Table Revenge.
Breakfast is an excellent meal to which to invite one's enemies. There would be a certain wild joy in dragging one's best hated friends out of their comfortable beds at unearthly hours of the morning and then providing them with a "good, honest, wholesome, hungry breakfast" which they probably could not eat.—London Gen-tlewoman.

An Elastic Standard.

merit? Editor—Oh, yes. If it hadn't I would throw you out of the window.
But it is good enough to permit you to steal quietly down the back stairs.—

Hackett. "I do, sir—ten of 'em!"—

Father's Occupation Would Likely Be News to Lord Clare.

"The late Frederick McNally had occasion," said a Chicago lawyer, "to consult me about an infringed copyright. Mr. McNally said he thought there would be no trouble about correcting this infringement. The thing, he believed, had been innocently done.
The man who had done it was an amateur in publishing—unsophisticated—like a girl his father used to tell about in Ireland. This girl was the daughter of a poor man, and every week or so she used to come to the village rectory with a pheasant or a hare to sell.
The price she asked was low, and for a time the pastor bought of her.
Then somehow, his suspicions were aroused. The next time the girl called, he said to her sternly: 'It is good, fresh game you bring, my dear, and your price is always reasonable; but do you come by all these pheasants and hares honestly?' 'Oh, shure, yes, yer reverence,' said the young girl.
'My father is poacher to Lord Clare.'"

Change of Vaudeville Program.

The new vaudeville theatre which was opened at the Grand Opera House last week by McMahon & Jackson, two experienced theatrical men, did good business considering the wretched weather during the week. The performances were good and worthy the liberal patronage of the public. Perfect order is preserved in the house and you will find it the place to spend an enjoyable evening. The bill for this week beginning with last night will be as follows:

Miss Viola Conley, America's premier song illustrator.

Miss Crystal Bell, character change artist.

Mr. Roe Reaves, singing and talking comedian.

Veiare & Clark, the world's famous acrobats.

Marvelous animated pictures.

Go and see for yourself.

Governor on Another Trip.

Governor Willson left Frankfort Friday for a ten days' trip East, and he announced that he would not hand down his findings in the matter of a pardon for Caleb Powers and James Howard until about May 17th.

Uncle Sam Economizing.

Postmaster General Meyer has issued an order to the postmasters of the country, requiring that strict economy be practiced in the use of telegraph and that all communications, especially in ordering of supplies, must be sent by mail except in exceptional cases. It is thought that the tendency of the postal deficit to grow larger, somewhat pronounced in recent weeks, may have had some bearing on the action of the Postmaster General in his effort to stop as much of the leak as possible.

Important Decision.

Property owners in cities in Kentucky cannot be compelled by a city ordinance to put down a sidewalk in front of or along their property, but the city may put down the sidewalk and take a lien on the property, is the opinion of the Court of Appeals in a decision rendered at Frankfort Friday. The opinion was written in the case of the city of Owensboro against property owners, brought to compel the application to put down a concrete sidewalk in front of their residences by a mandatory injunction as required by the ordinances of that city.

Laying of Cornerstone.

The laying of the corner stone of the new female college at Millersburg Friday by the Grand Lodge of Masons of Kentucky, will be a gala day for our beautiful little neighbor town.

The people of Millersburg and community are among the cleverest and best people of Bourbon county, and came to Paris in a body at the laying of the corner stone of our new court house. This will be a time to show our appreciation of these good people by our citizens generally turning out en masse Friday and be present at the laying of the corner stone of the Millersburg Female College, an institution that is near and dear to the hearts of everyone in that community.

The Masonic Fraternity will have charge of the exercises. The Master Masons of Paris Lodge will meet at the lodge room promptly at 10:30 o'clock Friday morning to attend in a body.

Not only Masons, but everybody that can, should join the crowd and give our neighbors the glad hand. Dinner will be provided at the Masonic Hall, at Millersburg, for the visiting Masons who attend.

President Makes Senate Mad.

The President has created intense feeling in the Senate by writing three letters to Senators, declaring his supremacy as Commander-in-Chief on questions relating to the army and navy. The letters relate to the Brownsville incident and the banishment of Col. Stewart. It is believed that the Republican Senators will hold a caucus to consider the letters.

ATTEND SALE TO-DAY.

Go to the sale of lots to-day in Massie Addition. Sale to begin promptly at 2:30 o'clock.

Youthful Wedding Couple.

An out of the ordinary wedding ceremony was performed at Upper Rockhouse Creek, near Sargeant, Ky., Sunday night, when young Leonard Hall, aged 15, son of Joe Hall, a hardshell Baptist minister, was married to little Miss Annie Proffitt, barely 12, daughter of Mrs. Sarah Proffitt, a poor widow. The father of the groom officiated.

Morbid Curiosity.

Fifteen thousand people visited the Guinness "death farm," near Laporte, Ind., Sunday. The crowd was so great that officers were forced to stop investigations. Another Chicago suitor for the hand of Mrs. Guinness is reported missing.

New Wall Paper Pattern.

I am prepared to furnish you with the latest patterns in wall paper and decorations for your room. Will hang same without any delay. Would be pleased to show my samples. East Tenn. Phone 439.

Night Riders Arrested.

Six Trigg county men were arrested on warrants sworn out in Lyon county charging them with night riding. Four of the warrants were served by a detachment of militiamen and the county officials of Trigg county are indignant that soldiers should have been sent into the county without any request being made for their presence by the civil authorities.
